

Somersault, Lean On The Stars

Deep down in the country anywhere in Middle East
they found her in the dusty road
A crying Britneys Beast

Loaded her in their trailer Towed with a strap or two
And with her nervous nervous break down they brought her to the zoo

Hush Baby, hush Baby why do you cry
Rush! Maybe ! Rush ! Maybe - holding your smile

Refrain:
You can lean on the stars
You can keep it up so far
But have you ever met the stranger in yourself ?

You try to please me all the time
Dont get me wrong - Maybe youre fine
But you cant touch me without the stranger in yourself

She joined there her companions - A stitched smile on her pretty face
It only took one little hour
While she was dancing with the Apes

All the famous Zoo Vets tried to heal her
From the "Smily Happy" disease
I think the Big Five should train her heavy till she is weeping for release
