

Sonar, Face the Sun (feat. Miles Bonny) they're the one that won't ever ask what about what about us they're the ones that always hold back hoping for the way out they're supposed to not make a sound but voices keep bubbling up the seams are getting thin trust me soon they'll burn take off the dark

take off and let me look at you up in the dark
take off the dark
and cut the weight that holds you down take all and let me look at you up in the light you're worth it all so take yourself to a higher place your values is greater then anyone could ever disgrace the visions you have are the best ones to follow please share your ideas with the world so you'll never feel hollow speak your mind it can't be the hard one to swallow but allow yourself to live now cause there may be no tomorrow
