Super Furry Animals, Cityscape Skybaby

She came in smelling of cabbages Pumpkin roots and all winters ravages She came in around dawn Took her coat off Burdened down by the Russian winter Felt the warmth of the hearth

Bathed a while naked in hot water Wash away imminent disaster Thinking through her today And the murder Of the bailiff and landowner Felt no shame Only gain

Cleansed the pike
Peeled all the potatoes
Beetroots ripe for bellies of gigolos
Served it up for her son and her daughter
For the last time she imagines
Reprobates lie in wait.
