

Tabitha's Secret, Dizzy

And outside
The sky is falling
People dodging raindrops, staying dry
And inside, I never gave a damn, bout those outside people anyway
And it hurt me
They don't even know who I am

And inside
There's no rainbows
And inside, I try, I try, I try, try to clear my head
And outside, the rain is drying
And inside, I'm dying

Cause in here, I'm staring at the rings, my coffee cup has made on the table
And in here, I know, I know, I know, yeah this is as good as it gets
And in time I hope to be the one, that talks about the other half
And until then, I count the cracks on the wall
Until it's time to lay my head

And inside
I'm playing with shadows
And inside, I know, I know, I know, that I'll feel this way all day, all day
And outside, there's hope for trying
And inside, I'm dying

You walk before me, lord knows I can't follow
You walk behind me and I don't think I can lead
You walk around me, please don't walk around me
Cause you know how dizzy I get
