

Tame Impala, Borderline

gone a little far gone a little far this time what something how was I to know? how was I to know this high came rushing?
we're on the borderline dangerously far and all forgiven possible a sign
I am gonna have the strangest night on Sunday here I go quite a show for a loner LA/I wonder how I manage to end up in his place where I couldn't get away

caught between the tides of pain and rapture then I saw the time watched it speedin' by like a train like a train
