Tanya Tucker, Love's The Answer

If you think it's hard in this day and time To hold your man like I been holding mine There's no secret just some little things to do It worked for me and it's bound to work for you A loving smile will start his day out right A goodbye kiss will bring him home at night Reach out to him when he needs a helping hand Touch him gently so he knows you understand Be proud of him when you know he's done his best Let him know you think he's better thant he rest If you wanna hold your man this is the way Love him more today than you did yesterday Love's the answer Love's the answer Be proud of him when you know he's done his best Let him know you think he's better thant he rest If you wanna hold your man this is the way Love him more today than you did yesterday Love's the answer Love's the answer
