

Taproot, Mirror's Reflection

i'm your mirrors reflection what you dont like about me is what you hate in yourself you should see through others eyes before you go ahead and make em feel like shit stop it but you won't because you hate yourselves images bitch sometimes i get so frustrated haunting visions in the back of my mind oh you struck a pose with your hand extended open arms in an idiocratic ways you try to lie to yourself but you cant break through that sacred wisdom of your spirit used me but you don't want to know me used me but you dont know sometimes i would give anything just to be something more than sometimes i would give anything to be something more than nothing
