

Tarkio, Candle

A candle for you
a strong wind
to guide you from the harbour so take it with you to leave late either one will tell you which you never hope to find you and leave low but, I know it will raise a wall between us so if you go
if you go
just go.

So we made it this far, we're both tired distracted from the breakdown I'll hold a candle to you, a raised glass another page is turning with another candle burning and left low, but I know
if you go
just go.
