

Taylor Dayne, There Is No Heart That Won't Heal

(Diane Warren)

So you're thinking that it's over
Cause he said goodbye
Left you with nothing
Nothing but the tears in your eyes
You don't know how you're gonna get through this pain
But the rain won't claim your days forever
There is no heart that won't heal
There is no tear that won't dry
No matter how lost you feel
Remember there is a light on the other side
There is no night that won't end
No sun that won't shine again
There'll be an end to this hurt that you feel
There's no heart that won't heal
Love can lift you to the heavens
But it can't let you down
And the fall ain't always easy
I know what you're feeling right now
But in time you won't find a trace of this pain
You get rainbows from rain just remember
There's no heart that won't heal
There's no tear that won't dry
No matter how lost you feel remember
There is a light on the other side
There is no night that won't end
No sun that won't shine again
There'll be an end to this hurt that you feel
There's no heart that won't heal
Hold on gotta be strong
Hold on
Hold on
Yeah
No matter how lost you feel
Remember there is a light on the other side
There is no night that won't end
No sun that won't shine again
There'll be an end to this hurt that you feel
There is no heart that won't heal
There's no heart that won't heal
Heart won't heal
Oh oh oh
No heart baby
