

Tear Garden, Phoenix

Hit "rewind"
You sit surrounded by a frame
Your laugh infectious
Hair in flames
Your star was lonely
But it lives
And we don't have the time for tears
A step beyond
Deep in the corner of my eye
I swear I saw a curtain rise
I can't be certain
It could be
That I'm just seeing what I want to see
But just who guides these hands
When they're shaking with frustration?
When scraping in the sand
Who provides the inspiration?
And who whispers from outside
When all seems desperation
"Seize the future..."
