

Teenage Fanclub, I Need Direction

I used to feel fine
you were to be mine
I need direction
to take me to you

I've asked the sunshine
shadowed the skyline
I need direction
to take me to you

I get brainwaves
I get visions
slow reaction
superstition

I need the ways and means to get through I need an open heart to look to nobody sees the same way I do
I need direction to get through followed the ley lines

the faded out road signs
I need direction
to take me to you

I get spellbound
I get visions
slow advances
indecision

I need the ways and means to get through
I need an open heart to look to
nobody sees the same way I do
I need direction to get through

Honest I'd feel fine
if you were to be mine
I need direction to take me to you
