

Temporary Basement, Rescind

i know why i can't sit still by noon i want to make plans want to present you with a house that stands you're unsure

you know you want to be a feather adrift
so i lay these words inside your hands

all waves break
i wont just wash away
my vow remains true
i didn't fight for you to let you through

unconvinced
you know you want of me
a pillar unmoved
so i root my feet
i sing to you

the things i want are the things i know i can't keep all i want from you
are the parts that you choose the gravity falls in my heart till i cant split the pieces
all i want from you
are the parts that you choose

i know why i look up to you i want to make good on every promise that i said i would

faithfully
i'll open every lock
our time will come soon it's a promise i can keep to you lately i've wronged - i'm not so sure that the patterns rejected were off though you've been lost - ill not rescind on the words that i started in song of you.

moments pass
i know they can't be planned it's not up to us

one last chance
we hold to plans we can
it's not about rain