

Tenth Avenue North, Lift Us Up To Fall

You move the earth
You hold the stars
Come move in us
Come mold our hearts

You send the rain and life begins
So rain on us and rain within our lives again

Waiting here
Waiting for You, God
With our hopes and fears we come empty hands held out
Draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
And lift us up to fall before everything You are
Before everything You are

You lift the sun into the skies
So lift us up, open our eyes
To see your face and what You've done
You took the nails to give us love
We stand in awe before Your throne
There's nowhere else that we can go

Waiting here
Waiting for You, God
With our hopes and fears we come empty hands held out
Draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
And lift us up to fall before everything You are

Come, oh come Emmanuel
Come, Lord here to dwell
Let all your children lift one voice
Hear us sing now

Waiting here
Waiting for You, God
With our hopes and fears we come empty hands held out
Draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
And lift us up to fall
Lift us up to fall

Waiting here
Waiting for You, God
With our hopes and fears we come empty hands held out
Draw us near
Heal these broken hearts
