

Tenth Hour Calling, Sundial

I'm a reflector a channel of sun
Perched here in gardens 'til I come undone
When leaves in their beauty trod over the glen
I'll be found here beside you 'cause my legs never bend

No longer am scared now
Of the world that brings scorn
I find hope in your promises
Of your Son in the morn

I'm a reflector a channel of love
Placed here in gardens 'til life comes undone
When winter comes calling, cold winds they draw nigh
I'll be caught up in your love, it's reflected in my eyes

No longer am scared now
I find hope in your presence (power)
No longer am scared now
I find peace in your presence
