

TEO, Trust

Why you gotta do this to me again,
Like a flying bird in the rain, that no one sees again
Why can't you realize what you did wrong,
It's the truest love that hurts the most, your loving heart is made of stone

I thought I saw you on the train station,
You were walking through the rain,
Oh oh oh
But it was ably imagination
I see you everywhere

Oh oh oh oh
Only trust yourself and no one else, and no one else

Take my love and take my hand, and don't choose somebody else,
just don't leave me behind
It's weird how you can forget me so fast, and not think about our past,
like a fish deep in the sea

I thought I saw you on the train station,
You were walking through the rain,
Oh oh oh
But it was only imagination
I see you everywhere

Oh oh oh oh oh
Only trust yourself and no one else, and no one else
Oh oh oh oh oh
Only trust yourself and no one else, and no one else

These times are something to never forget,
But it won't happen again
And we will go our own ways
