

Terminal, Not All Bad

I barely know you from a stranger but I here now ask the friend to talk nothing's quite as hard as you've been on yourself just stay here

couldn't we all use the company when days don't last couldn't we stand to hear someone say we're not all bad

let's catch a movie something to make us live again lets stay out all night go everywhere we don't live while we're alive and take the world for more for more

when the sun is coming up and we're still hanging out it's never been so nice to have someone around who believes in love

let's not make it home tonight because days don't last
