

The Alice Band, One Good Thing

Got a ticket for the lottery,
Thinkin' baby, i'm gonna win this time
Nothing's changed as far as i can see
When I look up between the buildings to the concrete sky.

Hey, everyone's got something
They would change about their lives if they could.
But hey, you gotta find that one thing
That one thing that's good.

You could be my one good thing
My ticket out, my reason for living
You could be my one good thing
If we get it right this time
You could be mine.

Didn't believe in finding a soul-mate
I just thought i'd stumble through myself
I catch you laughing in the rear-view
And I believe in dumb ol' luck as much as anything else.

Hey, everyone's got something
They would change about their lives if they could
But hey, you gotta find that one thing
That one thing that's good.

You could be my one good thing
My ticket out, my reason for living
You could be my one good thing
If we get it right this time
You could be mine.
(You could be mine)

Hey, gotta find that one thing
That one thing that's good

You could be my one good thing
My ticket out, my reason for living
You could be my one good thing
If we get it right this time
You could be my one good thing
My ticket out, my reason for living
You could be my one good thing
If we get it right this time.