THE BANGLES, James

I knew it'd turn out like this I'm keeping one foot on the train And I must be a masochist To ever take up with you, James It sounds familiar That tone in your voice You're gonna quit, James You leave me no choice Oh, James Letting me down again, James Well, it wasn't so long ago I saw love in your eyes And I think I should've known But I'm feeling somewhat surprised You think there's someone Better for you You think I'm too young To see this thing through Oh, James Letting me down again, James. (Oh, let me down) down, down (Oh, let me down) let me down, down, down, down (Oh, let me down) down, down (Oh, let me down) let me down, down, down, down (Oh, let me down) down I knew it'd turn out like this I'm keeping one foot out the door And I don't think I should trust That kind of love anymore And now I realize I had it all wrong I'll only take this shit for so long Woh, James Letting me down again, James Guess this is goodbye again, James Letting me down again

Letting me down again, James