

The Bear Quartet, Punks

this is where the punks hang out and I would like you to take me home
now is a good time
but not as before but that's my catchphrase these days, don't you think they turn up at noon

so we still have time no I don't want to meet somebody I might find interesting or new I just wanna be with you and that too can change just like that

I tried to snap out of it
they way you seem to do
so easy
but it's not for me

I know they're not evil or even bad
in fact, they don't annoy me half as much as this pointless waiting for one thing or other to break or go insane away or finally come home

I'm staying in tonight
with my records
I bought a stupid brand new one today

I tried to snap out of it
the way you seem to do
so easy
everything lasts
everything stays the same nothing you can say will make it change

still change
I want it to change