

The Black Crowes, Better When You're Not Alone

I love you in the worst way
The only way I know
They say the clearer the water
The more that it shows
They say the deeper the river
The stronger the love
Your eyes don't lie to me
And your smile is worth its weight in gold

This Life
This life aches
And this life moans
This life is great
This life is great
And it's better when you're not alone
Not alone

You love me in the worst way
The only way you know
They say the higher the mountain
The more love that grows
They say the stronger the wind blows
The farther we'll go
I hope you don't lie to me
There's nothing better than your touch

How many times does this happen
Two people like us meet
As I try to be humble
And lay down at your feet
