

The Cooper Temple Clause, I Know

I know you're finding it hard to get your own back
But you were sullen at the weekend
And I was sad until
You were waiting for the half-time getaway
Someone couldn't wait to get their own back
We were dealing at the last-chance table
How does it feel to get your own back?

I know you're finding it hard to keep your head up
But we were trouble after midnight
After a drink or two
I know you're making sense
I guess it's for the best
Get it off your chest don't call it all off
We did all we could but things just got away
Nothing left to say but call it all off

Maybe things will change but we will stay the same
Just stay with the pain and hang on in there
Ok, it wasn't perfect but how it shone
Now that it's gone it's left a hole there
