

The Cooper Temple Clause, Once More With Feeling

Can't you see the way you talk to each other?
Don't you realise we're in this together?
It's difficult to think you love one another at all.

Think twice, stand back, turn around and come back
Start again once again once more with feeling

You're on the same side so why are you fighting?
We share the same blood you're loved that you'll ever know

Think twice, stand back, turn around and come back
Start again once again once more with feeling

Can't you see the way you talk to each other?
Don't you realise we're in this together?
