

The Kingston Trio, Who's Gonna Hold Her Hand

Bob Shane/Tom Drake

Chorus:

Who's gonna hold her hand? Who's gonna hold her hand? Who's gonna be her man tonight? Who's

I watched that big white boat go down, sailing to the sea and ev'ry time that wheel went around, she
She sailed away to another town. I'll never understand.

She walked the streets in a yellow gown, singing, "Who's gonna be my man?"

(Chorus)

I used to walk by the riverside, lonesome as I could be. Hoping the boat would come sailing in. Bring
Sometimes I think my world will end and I'll have no place to hide
To cry the tears she left with me and the lonely feeling inside.

(Chorus)
