

The Like, Bridge To Nowhere

Wake up
It's over again
The day is getting colder
Head aches, my mind breaks
Kicked the covers on the floor
Downstairs
They're laughing
Everybody's seeming happy
I say it's too early
To smile, I haven't done that in a while

Cuz I can't see your face any longer
Not a trace any longer
I can't hide
I'm not laughing anymore
I can't be who you wanted me to be
Who you wanted me to see
I don't know now what's in store
Anymore

Flashbacks of times past
I would just forget to make it last
Turning on the lights
I'm waiting
Nothing seems to be changing
Books are on the desk
Blank papers
Every sign of life just seems to taper

Cuz I can't see your face any longer
Not a trace any longer
I can't hide
I'm not laughing anymore
I can't be who you wanted me to be
Who you wanted me to see
I don't know now what's in store
Oh...

Hear me out
Nothing's gonna break
Nothing's gonna break me down, me down
Nothing's gonna take
Nothing's gonna take me out
Oh, oh, oh, oh...
