The Mavericks, Someone Should Tell Her

Someone should tell her How much I love her Before she goes and Runs away with him If you should see her Tell her I need her Maybe then She'll come back to me

Ever since I broke her heart She won't talk to me All I need is a one last chance To make up and say I'm sorry

Someone should tell her How much I love her Before she goes and Runs away with him If you should see her Tell her I need her Maybe then She'll come back to me

I've never been the kind To get down on my knees If she could see me now A lonely man who's begging please

Someone should tell her How much I love her Before she goes and Runs away with him If you should see her Tell her I need her Maybe then She'll come back to me

Someone should tell her How much I love her Before she goes and Runs away with him If you should see her Tell her I need her Maybe then She'll come back to me Maybe then She'll come back to me Maybe then She'll come back to me
