

The Postal Service, Clark Gable

I was waiting for a cross-town train in the london underground when it struck methat I've been waitin