The Ramones, Can't Seem To Make You Mine

I can't seem to make you mine
I can't seem to make you mine
You're flyin' around like a bee
Hurtin' everything you see
I tried everything I know
To make you wanna love me so
The only thing you do
Is try to put the hurt on me

Can't you see what you're doin' to me
You fill my heart with a misery
With every breath and step I take
I'm more in love with you

I can't go on like this
A little bit of love, not one kiss
I gotta have your love everyday
A love that's real that will stay
I can't seem to make you mine
I can't seem to make you mine
I can't seem to make you mine
I can't seem to make you mine
Can't you see what you're doin' to me
You fill my heart with a misery
With every breath and step I take
I'm more in love with you

I can't seem to make you mine
I can't seem to make you mine
Come back, baby, to me
In My Misery
I give you love, not any day
Never ever go away
I can't seem to make you mine
I can't seem to make you mine
