The Temptations, I'm The Exception To The Rule

Each day you've got someone new A new heart to break And leave feeling blue

For you're a handsome guy Girls just can't pass you by But I can, my friend I'm the exception to the rule

I know you think I'm just acting the part Of the girl with the cold, cold heart And it won't take long For you to capture me With your innocent but meaningful plea

But you won't capture me I'm the exception to the rule

You tell me
Darling that's where you're wrong
That your love for me is oh so strong
That you will soon, very soon
Make me give in

I know that nine girls out of every ten Wants you to be their man But there I am again That one in ten

So it's useless For you to try and change me Because I won't give in, my friend

You could fool all the girls With your lies About you being so sweet and kind

But oh no, not me I'm the exception to the rule Give it up

I'm the one you can't fool I'm the one I'm the exception to the rule Give it up

I'm the one you can't fool I'm the one The exception to the rule Give it up

I'm the one you can't fool I'm the one I'm the one you can't fool
