

The Trews, You're so sober

I'd love to say
Do you love me, but
I'm as humble as a bumble bee
I'd walk away
If you come with me or
I may crumble
For all to see
I have the weather
On my side
Hey, by the way
Did you love me girl?
The words I mumble
As she leaves
I'll be okay
As long as you won't be but
You don't fumble
You don't grieve
You don't think whether
You don't think twice
You're so sober
You only broke me
You, only broke me
Yeah, you're so sober
You're so sober
You only broke me
You, only broke me
Yeah, you're so sober
Lay the blame
Make it worthy and
Sift through rubble
For debris
As night fades day begins
I'm noticing lately that the Wind sings trouble in the breeze
I have the weather
On my side
You're so sober
You only broke me
You, only broke me
Yeah, you're so sober
You're so sober
You only broke me
You, only broke me
Yeah, you're so sober
Is this over?
Or am I just crazy?
I'm not crazy
Yeah, you're so sober
Sober yeah
