The Twins, Playing With Fire

I'm going where I please - And coming to my senses I don't fall to my knees - At the fences.

Taking? Life in? Laughing And playing with Fire Lost in? Loving? Laughing And playing with Fire.

I'm taking every chance - And giving up at nothing And altering my stance - Without warning.

We're living for a lifetime And playing with Fire We're living on the line And playing with Fire.

I'm living for today - And dying to be with her I never beg or pray - Exept to differ.

Taking? Life in? Laughing And playing with Fire Lost in? Loving? Laughing And playing with Fire.

We're living for a lifetime And playing with Fire We're living on the line And playing with Fire.
