

The Weeknd, Missed You

convicted myself to run around with somebody else to forget about you but I can't hold you responsible for the things I do I said your name by mistake played it off like I am just confused but I was frontin', lyin' to myself when I know the truth

was I missed you
yes, it's true
I should've known not to let you go
let you go
cause I missed you
baby boo
we could've grown if I held you close
held you close

I hurt myself a hundred times just to feel something in my soul I kept knocking even though I knew what's behind that door but then I heard you call my name and it sounded like the sweetest song you never moved on you were waiting for me all along

was I missed you
yes, it's true
let you go
cause I missed you
baby boo
we could've grown if I held you close
held you close

was I missed you
yes, it's true
let you go
cause I missed you
baby boo
we could've grown if I held you close
held you close
