

The Weeknd, Nothing Compares

i, been tryin' to find the words to say if we tried again we'd make the same mistakes asphyxiated

I'll never make it
without my baby
so I fill the void
I know you do the same

nothing compares to the emptiness we both share and nobody cares like you do you ask for me heart
but I didn't know where to start but they don't think of you like I do

I try my best not get high again but I've stuck inside this place for days on end intoxicated

without my baby
so I fill the void

you ask for me heart

I seen darker days
tryna keep my faith
I sin too much to pray for you even when it's great I still walk away
I couldn't even change for you if you're the air I need I am dying just to breathe I hope that you're not dying too

you ask for me heart
