

Tickle Me Pink, The Lush Life

You'll never find me.
You'll never find me.
I am going away.
You'll never stop me.
You'll never stop me
from my self decay.

I've tried to warn you.
You never listened.
Now it's a little too late.
You'll never find me.
You'll never find me.
I am going away.

I'll slowly drown,
'til my head hangs down,
'til I come around again,
around again.

You can't define me.
You can't define me.
Your eyes are filled with doubt.
You can't remind me,
so don't confine me.
I'll find a way out.

I'll slowly drown,
'til it all dries out,
'til I come around again,
around again.

Don't come around here, no.
Don't come around here, no.
Don't come around here, no.
Just let me go, go go.
Don't come around here, no.
Don't come around here, no.
Don't come around here, no.
Just let me go, go go.

(Don't come around here, no.
Don't make us leave here, no.
Don't come around here, no.)

I'll slowly drown,
'til my head hangs down,
'til I come around again.

Oh
I won't be found,
'til it all dries out,
'til I come around again,
around again.

You'll never find me, no.
You can't define me, no.
You'll never stop me, no.
Just let me go, go, go.
Let me go, go, go.
