Tiefighter, The Face Of A Liar

Looking back on things You were never there for me When I needed you I needed someone here I took a stand for you But you wont move a finger for me Without actions, your words mean nothing to me III never make those mistakes Youd never give but were the first to take When you just dont fucking care Because when you said youd call you fucking lied This time youve gone to far Youre speaking empty words from an empty heart With an empty heart were you alive when you said you lived, you fucking died No wonder you couldnt see these things Youve always had your eyes closed