

Tina Dickow, One

One

One touch can fill a life of longing
Not much is so much more than nothing
Yeah - All you need is

One

An open smile to win you over
One single step will bring you closer
Yeah - All it takes is one

And when you're running for cover
And you feel the sky falling down upon you
And when it feels like forever
Since you've seen the face of someone who loves you

Then one is all that you need
All that you need to keep you warm
Is all that you need
All that you need to move you on
It's all that you need
All you need is

One

One word to fill a room of silence
A hand to offer you some guidance
Yeah - All you need is

One

A moment long enough to notice
That everything's stepped into focus
Yeah - All it takes is one

And when you've running from questions
And it seems like uncertainty controls you
And when you looking for answers
In the eyes of somebody who knows you

Then one is all that you need
All that you need to keep you warm
All that you need
All that you need to move you on
Is all that you need
All that you need to get you home
All that you need
All you need is one
