

Tinashe, MAKJ, Save Room For Us heart goes numb when the days turn to weeks only blank shadows of the way we used to be all these times zones between us have grown they've grown but these nights don't get easier when I see ya her

just save room for us
just save room for us somewhere
just save room for us
I trust you'll come back for us, somebody you know it's not the end we'll fall in love again
cause we were built in dreams of gold
and it may not be today
true love will find a way just save a space for me and I know you've moved on she will never love you

the way that I do
now I am dancing solo
slowly disappearing
it still hurts when I see you whit her

just save room for us somewhere
just save room for us,

the way that I do
