

TKM, Where I Belong

I've spent so long hiding
Lying came so naturally
The truth hurts
And the truth is
I was only hurting me
Gotta turn around
Gotta do this now
'Cause I think I know
This is where I belong
Seems like forever I've been searching
Like I've known all along
Love is the answer in a sea of questions
All my worry is gone
This is where I belong
I've held on so tight
Now you're holding on to me
For the first time in a long time
Something feels like home finally
Standing here now
So sure I know
This is where I belong
Seems like forever I've been searching
Like I've known all along
Love is the answer in a sea of questions
All my worry is gone
This is where I belong
When the storm is raging
I always knew that the sun would rise
In the endless winter's cold
I found warmth in your light
This is where I belong, yeah
Like I've known all along
Love is the answer in a sea of questions
All my worry is gone
This is where I belong
Where I belong
Where I belong
Love is the answer in a sea of questions
All my worry is gone
This is where
This is where I belong
This is where I belong
