

Tommy James And The Shondells, Run, Run, Baby

Standing alone,
All by your self,
no company.

Wiping a tear,
off of your eye.
So broken up,
where could he be?

Oh I knew that he would leave you in the end,
So I hung around and acted like a friend,

Oh I can't bear to see you,
Standing there
alone and crying
no one cares that love is dying
hard for you

Run run baby run to me
now is not the time to be strong
Run run run baby run to me

Back up singers
Just let it happen
So long
Back up singers

Run baby run

Oh how it hurts
Nothing but pain
That's all you feel
What a surprise
Now that he's gone
You always thought his love was real

Oh I knew that he would leave you in the end
So I hung around and acted like a friend

You mean so much to me
That I cant bear
to see you crying
Living in a world
that's dying
hard for you

Run run baby run to me
Now is not the time to be strong
Run run run baby run to me

Back up singers
Just let it happen
So long
Back up singers

Run baby run

Run run baby run to me

Back up singers
Run baby run
Back up singers

Run run run baby run to me

Back up singers

Run baby run

Back up singers

Run run baby run to me

Back up singers

Run baby run

Back up singers

Run run run baby run to me

Back up singers

Run baby run

Back up singers
