

Tomoko Tane, Broken Wings

However it's beautiful
Your eyes, hands and your warm smile
They're my treasure
It's hard to forget
I wish there was a solution
Don't spend your time in confusion
I'll turn back now and spread
My broken wings still strong enough to cross the ocean with
My broken wings How far should I go drifting in the wind
Higher and higher in the light
My broken wings still strong enough to cross the ocean with My broken wings How far should I go drifting in the wind keisoku no dekinai itami to keisoku no dekinai jikan no nagare ga subete wo uemete shimaou to shite mo sore demo watashi ni wa kanjirareru sora kara ochite kuru no wa ame de wa nakute. . . Across the sky, just keep on flying Did I ever chain you down to my heart
'Cause I was afraid of you?
No, I couldn't hold any longer
Love is not a toy
Let go of me now
The time we spent is perpetual
Our future is not real
I'll leap into the air
My broken wings still strong enough to cross the ocean with
My broken wings How far should I go drifting in the wind
Higher and higher in the light
My broken wings still strong enough to cross the ocean with
My broken wings How far should I go drifting in the wind
Across the sky, just keep on flying
