

Tony Lucca, Shame

you make me smile, you make me sad every dream ive ever had now im without you baby nothings the same took awhile, it took some time took an honest man to find the truth deep inside this broken heart now im empty with shame, shame well its all i can do to be honest and true talking with you till the dawn its seems kinda strange i know youve rearranged the tracks of this train youre on but still would it be kind if i told you my mind was slowly consumed by you would it be right if tonight i held you tight and showed you what im going through when i think about reasons they change like the seasons winter, spring, summer and fall i think maybe ill take some time out to cry and just rid myself of it all theres something about you i know that without you im lost and i cant find my way so just tell me right now if theres some way or somehow tell me you want me and baby ill stay...stay... shamefully stay baby ill stay.. and ill swallow my pride and ill keep it deep down inside of this broken heart and ill treat you the way that i didn't that day you decided that we'd fallen apart i dont want it the way it was baby thats just because i know i wasn't for real seems im lost deep in thought when all i was ever taught was to tell a girl just how you feel cause i know that in time you think i might change my mind and do this all over again i just gotta be clear im not sure what you fear but i promise i'll love you my friend cause there's something about you
i'm lost and can't find my way so just tell me right now there's some way or somehow just tell me you want me and baby i'll stay...staaaaay... so shamefully stay, baby i'll stay, you know that ill stay so shamefully stay cause i know that in time you think i might change my mind
i just wanna be clear im not sure what you fear
there some way or somehow baby

and baby you know im gonna you know im gonna stay im beggin baby please, just ask me, staaay
