

Tracy Byrd, Crazy Every Time

(Casey Beathard - Billy Currington - Dan Demay)

When we heard that train a comin'
Should've seen old Billy Walker run
I laughed and yelled, hey Billy
You're gonna miss all the fun.

Between me and that cold water
I bet there was fifty feet of air
When I jumped that bridge was shaking
But me, I wasn't scared.

Call me crazy but when the choice was mine
I'd pick crazy every time
Mama thought she, taught me better safe than sorry
But I guess I've always been the other kind.

I disregard all reason I don't look for hidden meanin'
And I don't really care if it don't rhyme
Born with a rebel state of mind
I'll pick crazy every time.

Between drag racing, cane raising', girl chasing
Bootlegging, I like my livin' on edge
Ask me what I'd change and I'll say
There's one thing to this day I still regret

She was the best thing I had goin'
Yeah that's what Billy always said
No one else will treat me better
Love me like she did.

All I had to do was walk that line
But I'll pick crazy every time
Mama thought she, taught me better safe than sorry
But I guess I've always been the other kind.

But don't ask me, I don't know why
I pick crazy every time
Between me and that cold water
I bet there was fifty feet of air...
