

Treble Charger, Even Grable

This time, who knows
You can do better than me
You'll see, it shows
Is that you tried to leave

I wanna go somewhere
I've never been anywhere
Why do you yell at me?
You're always yelling

I've finally found
That I tried to look down
What I'd live for
That far astray, it's like today
What's there to say?
Your reason's sound
And there's no one around
That I'd live for
You're gone away
Not meant to stay away

I feel you try
There's enough light in the way
It takes more time
Than you allowed me to say
I feel so sorry
So friendly it hurts
Need to speak when you're yelling and yelling
