

Tricky, Aftermath

For one [more poor boy?], there's someone
For he for she
For one [more poor boy?], there's someone
For him, for me
Your eyes resemble mine, see as no others can
Here inherit my kingdom, speak other people's plan
I'll be here for my baby, for my baby I'll be near
So many things I need to tell you, things you need to hear
So this is the aftermath
Your eyes resemble mine, you see as no others can
Here inherit my kingdom, speak other people's plan
I'll be here for my baby, for my baby I'll be near
So many things I need to tell you
For one [more poor boy?], there's someone
For he, for she
For one [more poor boy?], there's someone
For him, for me
Let me tell you about my mother*
For one more...
Your eyes resemble mine...
How can I be sure
In a world that's constantly changing
How can I be sure
Just when I thought I was winning
Just when I thought I could not be stopped
Just when I thought I was winning
Just when I thought I could not be stopped
how can I be sure
