

Ultra Orange, Rosemary's Lullaby

Hold me tight
as I try to stand drifted then landed on the soft ground I was a stranger
from who knows where when I hear your voice I don't know the words
why the hell should I care?
I suddenly opened my eyes I came around by accident there a some kinds of love who can bring you down like a wave of fear I felt so lone
far away from my home
and my heart exploded and I just said
why the hell should I care?
