Uriah Heep, Overload

Tonight you're going to Overload your mind Move into another world There for you online A high speed chase that Leads to the unknown Time will disappear so fast For you and you alone

A universe in isolation Feeding you imagination

No-one cares about
The role you play
Generations lost in space
A million miles away
Life moves faster
Than the speed of sound
You think you've got
Complete control
It makes your world go
Round and round

Digital communication Feeding your imagination

Coded warning Now you're falling into overload Countdown started, no way out Hit the mother lode

The power that you crave
For more and more
You try to understand the things
That you are fighting for
When multi channel meltdown
Gets to you
You'll reach the breakpoint
When it's over, what you gonna do

Seeing your determination Feeding your imagination

A universe in isolation Feeding you imagination You're looking for a new sensation Gotta find a real sensation

Into overload...
