Vashti Bunyan, Glow Worms

Glow worms show the path we have to tread Dreamers we should be asleep in bed Moving slowly through the springtime air Holding moments in the depth of care Holding moments in the depth of care

Whisper fairy stories till they're real, Wonder how the night can make us feel Loving living more with love to stay Long past sadness that was in our way Long past sadness that was in our way

Dawntime mist begins reflecting light, Waking sun will soon forget our night Love me through the day and I'll with you go Into summer and the next year's snow Into summer and the next year's snow
