

Veto, Cannibal

What to do when life hits you and makes you wonder if you're living at all what to wish for if you had one wish only what to do better if you had the chance would i be happy if I went back and learned how to dance would it be easy if I took the chance?

this is the real thing you'll get no second chance no helping hands
no easy way out
just do the right thing you'll get no second chance
no helping hands

I should have kept you when I had you I should have never let you go I should have loved you like I ought to but there is something wrong with me I know there's something I'm not doing right but what is right
you tell me

I should have seen the light but the light was shining way too bright and the noise was filling up my nights without you
