

Wall Kingston, Take You To Sweet Harmony

As I hear you complain 'bout your life makes me wonder if you'll get love tonight You have chosen everything, I say all the time you had the alternate way Everything's wrapped together it seems all the rights and responsibilities It's just a matter of your own attitude
If you feel alright, I know you look cute

Everything is so fine it could be don't let your mind take you in misery all the feelings you're not so much pleased they're just to take you to sweet harmony
