

Wanda Jackson, Dirt Behind My Years

It's over I filled our world with hurt
I cheated and I lied to you and piled up so much dirt
Now I'd lost the only one in life I held so dear
I slowly bury your love in the dirt behind my years
You had every right to leave as far as I'm concerned
You gave all your love to me got nothing in return
You tried and I'll bet you'll cry at least the million tears
But they just couldn't wash away the dirt behind my years
( steel )
You had every right to leave...
