Weeping Willows, Blue And Alone

I saw your face in a dream last night A vision so bright and so clear Though you were lost in the city lights It felt as if you were here

In my dreams I hold you tight I wish that I never let go In my dreams I have no fright 'Cause I'm no longer alone

We will never touch again
I'm under a spell since you've gone
We will never kiss again
I'm under a curse and I'm done
I feel so blue and alone

You had fire in your eyes And magic was in your touch I want you back and I despise That what I want is too much

In my dreams I hold you tight I wish that I never let go In my dreams I have no fright 'Cause I'm no longer alone

We will never touch again
I'm under a spell since you've gone
We will never kiss again
I'm under a curse and I'm done
I feel so blue and alone
